Mercury Down To 37 Degrees Here Wednesday

McKinney's winter weather continued Tuesday night, with the minimum temperature dropping again to 37 degrees by early morning, but by 7 o'clock Wednesday the thermometer started to rise and it has been considerably warmer throughout Wednesday.

The weather man forecasts partly cloudy Wednesday and Thursday with rising temperatures.

The drop to a temperature of five degrees above the freezing point Tuesday and Wednesday morning caused McKinneyites to scurry for heavy coats and wraps and heating stoves were turned on throughout the city.

County Agricultural Agent Jack McCullough says this crisp, cool weather is ideal for fattening turkeys, for gathering the remainder of the cotton and corn crops and for the farmers to get into the fields and prepare for fall planting of grains. The County Agent also says this weather is perfect for terracing. He made a survey for a terrace at the County Farm Wednesday and he and Assistant Agent V. C. Andrews will give a terracing demonstration Thursday at the Fred Bush Farm, Northwest of Allen, when the Whirlwind Terracing Machine will be seen in action. Any farmer interested in terracing is always invited to witness these demonstrations, Agent McCullough said.

The wintry breezes have resulted in good business for local merchants, who report a nice volume of sales of heavy garments and bedclothing.

The Grand Jury will not reconvene until the final week of the September Term of Court, starting November 24.

McKinney Turkey Market To Open Here November 3

Collin County's turkey crop will be seventeen to twenty per cent short of that of 1940, according to an estimate of A. A. Armstrong of the Collin County Produce Company of McKinney. Mr. Armstrong said the Texas crop will run about 17 per cent less than that of last year, but in Collin County the constant rainy weather was bad on turkeys and will doubtless result in a further reduction in the total output. But, at that, many carloads of fine, fat turkeys will be shipped from here to Northern and Eastern Markets and prices received by the farmers will be satisfactory, Mr. Armstrong said.

Mr. Armstrong and his wife attended the annual meeting of the Texas Poultry, Egg and Butter Association at Fort Worth Monday, when John B. Collier, Jr., of Fort Worth was re-elected President for another year. Mr. Collier is well known in McKinney.

Market To Open.

In other parts of the country, Mr. Armstrong said, the turkey production is up about 2 1-2 percent and even though the Government has placed an order for 1,500,000 pounds of dressed turkeys for the army for the holiday season there will be an ample supply for the United States and the American Thanksgiving table will have as many turkeys as usual, even with two Thanksgivings.

The local market will officially open Monday, November 3, and for a week there will be turkeys here and there and everywhere. Mr. Armstrong predicts just as busy a week as he has ever had in this business. He is doing his best to employ a sufficient number of turkey pickers so that he will not be delayed in preparing the birds for market and getting his shipments off on time.

Very few turkeys have reached McKinney this week due to the fact, Mr. Armstrong explains, that farmers have wisely been holding them and fattening them up for the Thanksgiving trade.

As Thanksgiving will be observed in McKinney and Collin County Thursday, November 27, the turkeys for local tables will not come in until after the birds for Eastern markets are all out of the way. Local housewives may expect to pay slightly higher prices for good turkeys for the Thanksgiving dinner, but the increase will not be alarming and more in line with the natural advance in other commodity prices, McKinney grocries and markets predict.

While the movement of turkeys has been very light this week, they are quoted on the McKinney market from 11 to 17 cents per pound. It is predicted by local produce men that the market will increase when the movement begins Monday, November 3.

Welcome Visit From G. M. Parr

This editor was very happy to have had a long talk with a good friend of many years standing, G. M. Parr, who lives on Route 2, McKinney. This good man has lived all his life in the Wylie, Dump and Lucas communities. He was in the World War twenty-five years ago and he is a red hot Franklin D. Roosevelt Democrat now. Mr. Parr is well posted on all issues of the day and is a pleasant man to talk to. We hope he will come back when he can. The Weekly Democrat-Gazette has been going to the Parr family for many years and will continue to do so. Come see us often G. M.

Rayburn To Speak At Greenville

Sam Rayburn, speaker of the house of representatives, is to make the address at the annual Greenville chamber of commerce meeting next Monday evening, president of the Greenville Chamber said.

Emergency Call From Red Cross Headquarters

The Collin County Red Cross Chapter has received an emergency call for hospital convalescent robes, bed shirts and operating gowns. They have made and shipped the bed shirts and operating gowns, but have about 200 convalescent robes that must be made and shipped at the earliest date possible.

They are asking McKinney women to meet this emergency by coming at once to the work room at the City Coliseum and make at least one robe or else take one home to make.

McKinney, Ready For Observance Of Hallowe'en

Children and grownups alike are keeping in mind that another Hallowe'en is just around the corner, the occasion arriving on the calendar Friday, October 31. McKinney merchants, their show windows filled with suggestions for the occasion, are not letting McKinney citizens forget the date.

Many social events are being planned for the week-end in observance of the occasion, when party-goers will dress in Hallowe'en attire, wearing masks of all kinds and descriptions. Horns and other noise-makers will assure plenty of noise at each event. Typical Hallowe'en games will be played.

The J. H. Hill (Central) Ward School P.-T. A. is sponsoring their annual Hallowe'en school carnival Thursday night from 5 to 9 o'clock at the City Coliseum, with the general public invited.

With fair weather prevailing, another throng is expected in the downtown area of the city. Annually, hundreds throng the downtown business section of the city, many of them attired in costumes appropriate for the occasion, parading about the city.

Chief of Police Ed Blakeman urges a safe and sane Hallowe'en. "We want everyone to have plenty of fun, and we are not expecting any boisterous action, for McKinney citizens are law-abiding and believe in safe and sane celebrations. While we will be on hand to keep a lookout over the proceedings, yet we are not anticipating any out-of-the way action on the part of any of the celebrants," he said.

Meeting Of Drug Store Coaches Association

Head Referee George W. James announces another meeting of the McKinney Drug Store Coaches Association at the McKinney High School Cafeteria Friday morning at 6:45 o'clock. Breakfast will be served by Mrs. W. C. Patterson, in charge of the cafeteria, and assisting ladies. Coach J. W. (Swede) McMurry of the McKinney High Lions and officials of the organization are urging a large turnout of "M" Association members and former McKinney High athletic stars. All plans and suggestions submitted by officials and members of the Drug Store Coaches Association will receive prompt attention, says Coach McMurry.

Advance Ticket Sale Indicates Big Crowd At Game

The advance sale of tickets to the McKinney-Greenville game Friday night at Newsome Stadium, which will be the Ninth Annual Homecoming Game, is gratifying. A. A. Alexander, Business Manager of Athletics of McKinney High, warns that the sale will continue only until Thursday night, and after that time tickets can only be obtained at the Stadium and at higher prices.

Everything is in readiness for the big game and members of the "M" Association, ex-lettermen of McKinney High, will be there in a body, a special section of the Grandstand reserved for them. They will join the pep squad and McKinney High Band in rooting for the home team. After the game the Association will give a chili supper on the grounds for their members and the boys of the McKinney Lions Squad.

The boys have been having some good workouts under the direction of Coach J. W. (Swede) McMurry, who says the players are in fine form for the fray. The Greenville Lions are also said to be in good condition and the contest will doubtless be a hard-fought battle, as this will be a Conference Game and both teams are said to be well matched. The game starts at 7:30 o'clock.

RED CROSS LAUNCHES ITS GREATEST FIRST AID DRIVE AS NATIONAL DEFENSE STEP

The American Red Cross has announced plans to undertake its most extensive first aid program in history—training a nation-wide corps of Civilian Defense workers as instructors in wartime first-aid. Red Cross officials estimated the project would bring the number of Red Cross first-aid trainees to more than 1,000,000 for the coming year.

Courses will emphasize treatment of war gas cases, control of bleeding, transportation of the wounded and other first-aid problems now being experienced in bombed civilian centers in Europe and the Orient, Chairman Norman H. Davis of the Red Cross said.

Upon completing 45 hours of classroom study under direction of first-aid field representatives of the national Red Cross staff, Civilian Defense workers will be authorized to teach and award standard and advance Red Cross first-aid certificates. National Red ross staff workers are being assigned to regional and local instructors' schools, bein set up by the Office of Civilian Defense. The Civilian Defense instructors corps will be augmented by 25,000 active Red Cross volunteer instructors in chapters throughout the country.

"The necessity for training additional hundreds of thousands of first-aiders is an obviously vital part of our civilian preparedness for national defense," Chairman Norman H. Davis, of the Red Cross declared. "Fires, explosions and other forms of destruction which endanger life—even the possibility of enemy air or sea attack—must be considered. By undertaking this program the United States will have a trained, well organized corps of volunteers ready to meet any emergency. Preparedness shall serve as an antidote against fear and panic.

"Immediate and skillful handling of the injured bridges the critical minutes while the doctor is on the way. Seldom at the scene of catastrophe is there an adequate number of physicians.'

Chairman Davis said the Red Cross was beginning a "pilot" project in eleven states: New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Maine, New Hhampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Florida and Mississippi. As other states complete OCD arrangements, the Red Cross will make the training program available.

During the past year Red Cross issued more than 500,000 first-aid certificates, the largest in the 27-year history of first-aid training. In addition to training instructors for the OCD, the Red Cross is widening training of first-aid instructors in the Army, Navy, CCC and for municipal police and fire departments, Chairman Davis said. Corps of instructors already have qualified in 30 Army and Navy camps and stations, and graduates are teaching standard first aid to thousands of service men.

More than 130,000 CCC enrollees last year were taught Red ross first-aid through instructor schools set up on a similar basis. New York City is the most recent municipality to make Red Cross first aid required training for firemen. A program has been put into motion there by Fire Commissioner Patrick Walsh to train all of the city's 10,000 firemen who to date have not completed a standard course.

Roosevelt Suggests That Teeth Be Put In Mediation Plan

Because of the stoppage of work in the mines by order of John L. Lewis, head of the C. I. O., and a number of pending strikes, the Senate Tuesday began considering branding strikes in defense industries as sabotage, punishable by $10,000 fine or ten years imprisonment or both for persons found guilty of ceasing work on defense projects or causing others to cease because of labor disputes.

President Roosevelt indicated that he would ask for such legislation, although he did not specify what terms he would ask for. He merely suggested that teeth be put into the law, requiring both capital and labor to mediate difficulties without stopping production of any materials needed for the defense of this country or other countries this nation is assisting to resist oppression.

Axis Powers Deny Statement.

Regardless of vigorous denials issued by both Hitler and Mussolini regarding President Roosevelt's charges that the Axis powers planned to take over 14 countries in South and Central America, including the Panama Canal, America's lifeline, and obliterate all religions, the President reiterated his statement again Tuesday. He said the denials made by the Axis were not worthy of a reply.

The Germans are being repulsed on the Central front in Russia, Moscow claimed Tuesday night, but it was admitted the Southern sector was in danger. Fierce Russian counter attacks, said a British report, had forced the nazis back at several important points. During the last two days, one report said, the Germans lost 26 warplanes near Moscow. Wherever the nazis have been checked, Berlin reported it was caused by the weather conditions, as winter has been hampering operations all along the line where heavy mechanized equipment is in use. In the area near Rostov, it was admitted by the Soviets, it was feared a catastrophe was near. The fall of that center would give Hitler's forces access to a rich industrial area.

◆ ◆ ◆

President Signs Lend-Lease Bill.

President Roosevelt Tuesday signed the bill appropriating $5,985,000,000 (billions) for lend-lease assistance to the nations opposing Axis aggression.

While he had always supported the policy of the America First Committee in its fight against involvement in the European war, Edward L. Ryerson, Chicago steel executive, tendered his resignation to that Committee Tuesday, declaring the time had come when unity was of paramount importance in the United States and he proposed to stand by the government, come what may.

" I still believe we can stay out of the conflict," said Mr. Ryerson "and that we can give aid to Britain and other nations opposing aggression in other ways, but conditions have brought about a situation where we stand face to face with the possibility of involvement, in which case, all true Americans must unite in the crisis."

He aws long a member of the McKinney bar and a former member of the Texas Legislature. Appropriate services were held at the Court House by the bar of McKinney and Collin County, eulogistic of the life of Mr. Cottrell as well as his long experience as an attorney and member of the Legislature. This office was visited by Mrs. Cottrell, daughter and son-in-law.

Many former tenants are seeking land to rent for 1942.

Santa Claus Is Newest Victim Of Priorities

(By Paul Crume in Dallas News)

They've even got priorities on Santa Claus now.

As a result of the mixup where Santa and another bewhiskered gentleman anmed Uncle Sam got their beards tangled this year, Santa came out with fewer whiskers. You'll not be able to get some of the things you've always bought for Christmas this year. You'll pay more for others. And if you want a lot of things for Christmas, you'd better buy them now.

A miniature Christmas rush was developing last week, many weeks ahead of the usual Thanksgiving starting day. And for the first time in the memory of most merchandising managers, stores were better stocked for Christmas in mid-October than they probably will be in December.

Of electric toasters, waffle irons, chromium dishes and all the metal things that good taxtaying citizens have been accustomed to buy in the past, there'll naturally be a scarcity. Local merchants already have noted that manufacturers of such articles as cigarette lighters have promised no future deliveries. But priorities were cutting into Christmas goods much farther removed from the defense program.

You'll find on the defense books a shortage of formaldehyde, which is needed for plastics. Formaldehyde is made from methanol, and the equipment used to manufacture methanol is now tied up making ammonia for explosives. As a result, there'll be few perfume bottle tops of plastic, little plastic costume jewelry or bag ornaments.

◆ ◆ ◆

Handkerchiefs and Stockings.

There has been a 10 per cent additional cut in materials allowed for nylon yarn. Result, a smaller stocking market.

Most embroidered handkerchiefs are made in China, and as the Japanese blockade is tightened, fewer fine handkerchiefs are available.

One department store in a large city reported that even commoner articles are being affected by the defense program. A Minneapolis factory where it buys underwear recently had been forced to hike its labor cost some 30 per cent. Other industries are losing skilled and semi-skilled workers to defense industries which can pay more. Deliveries are delayed and shortened.

Most merchandise men will tell you confidentially that this is the last Christmas on which Americans will see fine Christmas wrapping papers and ribbons until the emergency is over. After this year, the government probably won't allow any waste of paper.

One Christmas department which won't be affected much is the toy counter, because toys are ordered ten months in advance and were made last summer for this year. This will be the last year of the toy bonanza, however, most merchants believe.

◆ ◆ ◆

Military Toys Again.

Toys this Christmas will run more than ever to the military type, banks, lead soldiers engaged in every type of military activity, submarines that actually will submerge in the bathtub and airplanes.

Although stores stocked no heavier this year than usual, they got their stock earlier and it probably will be adequate to a degree. Most stores had made arrangements to start restocking earlier. But most dealers were pessimistic.

"When what we've bought is gone, we won't be able to fill any more orders," one of them said.

Despite the fact that priorities have got in Santa Claus' hair merchants expect this Christmas to be one of the greatest, from a business standpoint, because more people have more money to spend.

They said priorities have had only one good effect on their business. It is free advertising A government order placing a restriction or a tax on an article can create a rush for it faster than anything else, one merchandising manager said.

Junior Poultry Show May Be Held Here In January

The possibility of holding a county-wide Junior Poultry Show and school in McKinney was voiced at Friday afternoon's meeting of the Senior Chamber of Commerce Directors and members, by Secretary W. Hammond Moore. President Thos. Johnson presided over the session, at which twenty-three were present.

Directors and members were rewarded by their attendance in hearing a variety of timely and interesting reports including Jaycee activities, city and county affairs, good roads, educational affairs, county health progress, the Free Fair and the Junior Poultry Show.

Secretary Moore's remarks concerning the poultry show were made in connection with his report of the recent Collin County Free Fair, in which he paid tribute to President Elton Riggs, and said that over 1,200 premiums, all debts had been paid and that a good margin was left over for next year's event.

For Young Poultry Raisers.

It was then that he made the suggestion that a Junior Poultry Show and School is being considered and that if the event is held, as tentatively planned, it will likely be in January. Exhibitors will be limited to young people under 21 years of age, he said, and added that approximately 100 boys and girls had said they woul like to take part.

Tentative plans call for a three-day event, with young poultry raisers not only exhibiting their prize poultry, but also attending a series of class sessions and lectures on the successful raising of fine poultry for all purposes. There is sufficient funds left over in the Free Fair's treasury, he said, to sponsor the show.

Collin County is ideally suited for the raising of fine poultry and the Free Fair officials are pleased with the interest being shown by young poultry raisers of the county in advance discussions of the event, he said.

◆ ◆ ◆

Varied Reports.

Attending the meeting were President Johnson, Secretary Moore, Dr. W. T. Hoard, Lyman D. Robinson, T. J. Lane, Joe E. Largent, M. C. Johnson, Jack R. Ryan, H. S. Ware, C. M. Cooper, Roy C. Heathington, Roy Caldwell, Marvin Collins, Wallace Hughston, Henry W. Warden, County Judge H. H. Neilson, A. M. Scott, Sr., Mayor Tom W. Perkins, Sam Smith, Dr. J. M. Smith, Dr. J. M. Jaycee Report.

President Marvin Collins of the Jaycees expressed his pleasure at the fine turnout of fans for the Thursday night ward and junior high football games, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He also said the Jaycees are working with health authorities in regard to a rat extermination campaign, expected to begin soon.

Good Roads Progress.

Joe E. Largent, reporting on good roads progress, made known the correspondence between Congressman Sam Rayburn of this District and Secretary W. Hammond Moore regarding getting Federal designation of Highway 24, running East and West through Collin County. He declared that Mr. Rayburn had promised all possible aid in securing this designation. Along this line, Secretary Moore pointed out that the government is giving attention first to building and maintenance of roads located near defense industries and to roads that are designated military highways

County Affairs.

In a brief, but concise report, County Judge H. H. Neilson declared that county officials had visited Nacogdoches last week attending a governmental institute and that they plan to attend a convention next week in San Antonio. Officials were in Dallas Thursday, he said, in the interest of the food stamp plan.

◆ ◆ ◆

City Affairs.

Mayor Tom W. Perkins said that orders had been given to rebuild Standifer Street, from Tennessee to the McKinney City Hospital, including a road 40 feet wide, that will be rocked and graveled and, he hoped, blacktopped. Two additional parking lots, behind the Masonic Temple and the McKinney Examiner office, have been secured for the convenience of motorists, capable of accommodating approximately 150 cars.

Educational Progress.

McKinney Jaycees were thanked by Superintendent Jack R. Ryan for sponsoring ward school football and for the splendid games sponsored between Ward and Junior High School teams Thursday night at Newsome Field in this city.

Superintendent Ryan explained the methods of schools contracting one with another, four having contracted with McKinney High School, New Hope, Wilson, Lovejoy and Franklin.

U. S. Navy Ready For Action Says Roosevelt

Monday is Navy Day and the President Sunday night sent a letter to Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox in which he appealed to all Americans to sacrifice their personal, section and group interests "in order that we may remain united and unconquerable."

The letter was made public by the Navy Department and at the same time it was announced the Navy had arranged for observance of Navy Day at many of the Naval posts throughout the country. The biggest celebration was to be held in Washington where the Navy and Marine Corps were to join in patriotic demonstrations, sham battles and aerial exhibitions.

U. S. Navy Is Ready.

The Nation's vastly expanded sea operations were cited by President Roosevelt. He declared, "The Navy is ready for anything."

On the Russian front the Germans claimed to have cracked the Red resistance on a broad front. Moscow admitted the fall of Stalino, but claimed the battle cost the naxis 50,000 lives.

Wilson, Teller and Assistant Bookkeeper of the Citizens State Bank of Princeton, who was in McKinney on business Thursday, reports that practically all of the cotton has been picked in his community. He said they are making about a half crop this year due to the unfavorable weather conditions. Both cotton and cotton seed prices in Princeton have been about the same as those prevailing in the County Seat, he said.

In the case of Lovejoy, only certain grades have contracted with the McKinney Public Schools. He explained that the State requires an average attendance of sixty-five percent of the scholastics in order to get State aid and, since many of the rural schools can not meet this requirement, they prefer to contract with a larger school, which benefits both. He pointed to the nation-wide decrease in enrollment in schools and said there were seventy-eight less in the McKinney Schools at the end of the first month this year than at the same time last year.

The splendid record of McKinney High graduates off at College and University was commended by the McKinney School Superintendent, who also commended the excellent work being done in the colored school of McKinney and the fine faculty of which the school boasts.

Squirrel Stew Is Enjoyable Affair

A large number of prominent McKinney business and professional men enjoyed their annual outing, squirrel stew and barbecue Thursday afternoon on Cook's farm, three miles West of the city.

The feast, composed of stewed squirrel, and barbecued beef, mutton and goat, with all the accessories, was one of the finest ever enjoyed by these hungry men. W. W. Crenshaw, past master in the art of concocting squirrel stew, had supervision over this feature of the menu and the well known McKinney character, "Major" Dixon (Col) personally handled the making of the barbecue.

Starting at high noon, the feast lasted for more than an hour and was followed by a general get-together in which the men renewed acquaintances and had a good time in general. Hooks Moore was the General Chairman in charge of the occasion.

These outings have been held annually for many years by the men of McKinney and they are always looked forward to with much anticipated pleasure, and those who attended Thursday were not disappointed.

Mr. And Mrs. Roy L. Brockman To Visit Children

Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Brockman left Thursday for New Orleans, La., to spend the week-end. They will be joined there by their daughter, Miss Jane Brockman, student in Gulf Park College at Gulf Port, Miss. Several of Miss Brockman's classmates will be in the party and after enjoying the week-end in New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Brockman will accompany the group to Gulf Port for a few days' visit. They will return home by way of Houston to visit their son, Buddy Brockman, who is a student in Rice Institute this year. They plan to be away on the trip for about ten days.

Students Become Teachers At Texas U. For Six Weeks

The tables have been turned, and students in at least one class at the University of Texas have become teachers themselves, for the next six weeks.

They are enrolled for an education course which involves a period of "practice teaching" in Austin's public schools under the supervision of University professors and the teachers of their practice classes.

Miss Sherley Scott, University student from McKinney, is getting the teacher's "angle" on things by directing the study of an English class. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Scott of McKinney.

The system of practice teaching is the final step in the University's teacher-training program, adding to the study of methods of handling students actual practice on the job.

First part of the course involves making detailed observations—visiting classes and noting teaching techniques. Then the students make out elaborate "lesson plans," finally taking over a class and putting their plans into operation. The course in practice teaching is a requirement for a permanent teacher's certificate in Texas.

W. M. Kerr was removed to his home, at North Church and Heard Streets, Wednesday afternoon after undergoing treatment at the McKinney City Hospital.

More Eggs Needed For U. S. Army, Export Purposes

"More eggs are needed for our army and for export to the countries we are helping to resist aggression," said County Agricultural Agent Jack McCullough. He declared that fifty million eggs will be needed in 1942.

He is asking farmers if they are getting maximum production from their hens. He advises to check these essentials for fall management:

"Are you feding a properly balanced mash?

"Are your hens in good flesh?

"Is your poultry house comfortable?

Have you provided green pasture for winter?

"Have you vaccinated to prevent fowl pox?

"Are your hens and pullets free of external and internal parasites?"

A. H. Lovelady of Blue Ridge was a visitor in the County Seat Wednesday.

Mrs. George Hendricks of Melissa was taken home Wednesday afternoon following an operation at the McKinney City Hospital.

Texas Tenants Soon To Start New Offensive

Using past experience as the yardstick, an estimated 82,000 of the 204,402 tenants who now till Texas soil will move to another place this fall.

Tyrus R. Timm, Economist in Farm Management of the A. and M. College Extension Service, suggests that although this mass exodus of 40 percent of the farm tenant population probably will shift only a few miles "tenant mobility, in general, certainly is disadvantageous to both landlords and tenants."

He points out that necessity for soil conservation and soil improvement on most farms, need for crop rotation over a period of years, and the importance of introducing, or adding, livestock on tenant farms make it all the more important that tenants remain on the same farm for several years.

The tenant migration began in the Lower Rio Grande Valley about September 1, and the shift continues Northward toward the Panhandle region during the winter. As heretofore, nearly every tenant will feel that in his new landlord he at last has found an agricultural doctor who not only can ease his agrarian pain but also cure the ill.

"Nevertheless," Mr. Timm adds, "if history repeats itself four out of 10 of the tenants will have a change of heart within the next 12 months and be ready to move again next year."

The Texas Extension Service, in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture, for several years has been trying to help landlords and tenants adjust their differences, and thus make it possible for the tenant to stay more than one year.

A thorough understanding should be had between the landlord and tenant on at least the following points, says Mr. Trimm;

Length of lease; assurance and guaranties by the tenant and landlord; agreement with respect to credit furnished by the landlord; respective contributions by each party to opearting capital; adjustments with respect to property owned in joint account; respective contributions by each party to expenses; privileges for which special rent is or is not to be paid; specifications with respect to farming methods and procedure; provisions for supervision; procedure at termination of lease; and adjustment of differences.

Mr. Timm suggests that if each of these problems is analyzed carefully by the landlord and tenant at the beginning, balancing contributions and benefits fairly, there is no reason why the tenant should not try the same farm again. "It should be remembered that neither the landlord nor the tenant can prosper alone. They must prosper together."

Pitts, whose 153-acre farm three miles Northwest of McKinney on the Roland Pike, is one of the finest farms in Collin County. He planted his pecan trees ten years ago. Some of them started to bear the second year, he said.

Mr. Pitts is one of the most successful diversified farmers in this county. He grows, corn, alfalfa, onions, oats and wheat and has a nice herd of dairy cows, also. He moved to Collin County from Ellis County twenty-five years ago. U. S. Air Corps Doing Something About Weather

The United States Air Corps is doing something about the weather—in contradiction to the old bromide about everyone talking about it and doing nothing—and needs the help of a large number of intelligent young men to tackle the job.

Major C. F. Tiemann, in charge of the base weather station at Kelly Field, stated this week that he had received word from Major S. A. Olsthun, head of the 3rd Region Weather Office, that 10 new weather stations are to be created within the near future. There will be openings in profuse numbers in the new stations for men who can meet the requirements, it was pointed out. As very definite attractions to men who might consider enlistment in order to enter meterology, Major Tiemann stated that promotions are as rapid as the ability of the student is demonstrated.

As examples of some of the vacancies crying to be filled as soon as men are found who can fill the bill, Major Tiemann relayed the information that the 3rd Weather Region has openings for seven master sergeants, the highest ranks which can be obtained by enlisted men. There are also vacancies for 12 technical sergeants, 46 staff sergeants, 25 sergeants, 11 corporals, 33 privates, first class; 39 privates, second class, 38 third class, 27 fourth class and 21 fifth class.

Candidates for enlistment in the 3rd Weather Region are invited to come out to Kelly Field and see either Major Tiemann or Warrant Officer Phillips at the weather station. They will be interviewed concerning adaptability and background. It is stressed that a minimum of a high school education is necessary for candidates. Should they be judged of meteorology caliber they will be given an Otis or general aptitude test, and a mathematics test which requires a good knowledge of algebra.

Candidates who are found desirable and enlist in the Air Corps enter competition with other technical school candidates. It is purely up to the man whether or not he makes the forecasters' school. Those making the higher grades will be sent as vacancies occur. This forecasters' school is one of the best in the nation and students are given the finest instruction during the seven-months course. Those who fail to make the forecasters' school are still eligible for the observers' school which covers a three-month period.

Major Tiemann points out that the last nine men who took the competitive examination at Kelly Field are to be sent to the forecasters' school sometime next month. Upon successful completion of the course they will be eligible for staff sergeant ratings. On attaining the rank of staff sergeants they are in a choice spot to move on up to the top, advancing to tech sergeants and then master sergeants in one and one-half years after enlistment, he elaborated. Attainment of high rank is in contrast to the "old Army" wherein a man was usually ready for retirement before he was placed in the master sergeant realm.

The new weather stations in the 3rd Region are to be located at Midland, Lubbock, Sherman, Waco, Mission and Harlingen, Tex., Enid and Oklahoma City in Oklahoma; Highley, Ariz., and Roswell, N. M.

COMPLETE MAILING OF 15,000 TAX STATEMENTS

Mailing of county tax statements to all taxpayers in Collin County will be completed Friday and everyone should receive bills not later than Saturday, according to County Tax Assessor-Collector Clint M. Lewis, who, with his Deputies, has been working late every night this week to get the job done.

The sending out of tax statements was first delayed when the Commissioners Court could not fix the tax rate until the Legislature, in special session, passed on the road bond assumption bill. After the rate was fixed, the tax rolls were prepared and sent to the State Comptroller at Austin and the County Tax Assessor-Collector had to then wait until the rolls were approved.

After this delay Mr. Lewis was anxious to get out the bills as quickly as possible. He employed several temporary deputies and with his regular force completed the job this week. All the bills for outside of McKinney and not for taxpayers on McKinney Rural Routes were taken to other Collin County Post Offices and mailed in the districts in which the taxpayers live. In this way, Mr. Lewis figures he has saved the county more than $100.00 in postage on the 15,000 or more statements he and his deputies mailed out.

McKinney Colored Eleven Defeated By Plano Colored Club

Newsome Stadium was the scene of a big celebration Friday night when the Homecoming Game was played by the Doty High School Colored team and the Plano Colored eleven. The visitors walloped the locals 12-to-0, but this did not dampen the spirits of the crowd.

The McKinney Golden Bobcats wore their new golden jerseys. They were given plenty of encouragement by the Doty High Band and Pep Squad. Between the halves, Ruby Mae Johnson was crowned queen of the event at the coronation ceremonies.

Both lineups were strong, but the Plano Panthers, proved too much for the Bobcats.

About 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon the Doty school students staged a parade through the downtown streets headed by the Doty band, directed by J. M. Duncan, and the pep squad headed by Caldonia Young, all dressed in their new golden uniforms. The homecoming queen rode on a decorated float.

At the game the grandstand was well filled with enthsiastic rooters for both teams and a large crowd of white persons occupied the section reserved for them.

FINE RECORD OF REPAYMENT.

FARMERS IN EAST TEXAS' 71 counties have repaid 90 percent of nearly eleven million dollars in Federal seed loans secured during the ten years, 1931-40 inclusive, according to an article appearing in the October issue of EAST TEXAS Magazine. The article is based upon a statement of collections as of June 30, 1941, obtained by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce from Regional Manager W. E. Farwell of the Dallas Emergency Crop Loan Office of the Farm Credit Alminstration which shows this agency made 158,940 crop production loans to small farmers in East Texas during the period for $10,764,649 with repayments of $9,695,435.34, or 90.07 percent, in addition to interest. Repayment reached 95 percent during three of the years covered, the article states. Collections continue steadily on the balance. None of the accounts are charged off or renewed as limitation does not run against these Government notes. Delta County leads in collections with 97.62 percent. It is closely followed by other black land counties, Navarro, Rockwall and Collin. Big volume counties however are in the sandy section where Smith County with 5,454 loans repaid 95.81 percent and Harrison County, with 6,202 loans for the ten years, has repaid 95.65. Bowie County, with 9,895 loans, has been largest user of the seed loans. "This repayment record speaks well for the character and ability of small East Texas farms and the dependability of East Texas agriculture," the article states. The loans which are small do not compete with local credit agencies but "take up where local credit leaves off." Twenty-three Field Supervisors are able to handle all of East Texas for the Dallas loan agency. They are greatly aided by local committees, who serve without pay, and to whom much of the success of the seed loans is due. J. L. Berry of Dallas is Field Supervisor of this district.

ORCHARD FOR EVERY FARM.

THE SLOGAN, "AN ORCHard for every farm," advocated by the Collin County Land Use Planning committee, of which George Jenkins of Celina is Chairman, has been strongly endorsed by County Agricultural Agent Jack McCullough. The Farm Agent says that on every farm there should be, for each member of the family, six peach and two plum trees, siyteen berry and six grape vines. With regard to varieties of orchard stock best suited to this section, the agent lists peaches, plum, apple, and pear, figs, grapes, blackberries, dewberries and pecans. To interested farmers and their families, desiring an orchard, the Agent will furnish information as to planting, including varieties of trees, best suited to their particular farms and prevailing conditions, and the distance apart which trees should be planted to insure heaviest yields.

FARMER FLIES MEN TO WORK TO AVOID MUD.

A FARMER WHO FLIES HIS hired men to work is Elmer C. VonGlahn, operator of extensive farm land in Kings County, Cal., who built a large airport near Corcoran and offered the use of it to the army as a training school for aviators.

Crews that are working on the airport have been delayed in getting on the job by muddy roads, so VonGlahn has made arrangements for the workers to be flown to the place of operations. Much time is thus saved.

It had been taking one of the crews three hour to get to work at the levee where valuable wheat acreage will be protected from high water. The plane makes the trip in six or seven minutes, and only two trips are required to fly the crew of eight men to the scene.

Fuel and other supplies were being hauled to the job on sleds pulled by tractors, because the trucks bogged down in swamps of mud.

The airport has three 3,900-foot runways, each 200 feet wide, and it covers 240 acres. VonGlahn said the sandy soil made an excellent field, which was not bothered by rain, and therefore, could serve fliers in all weather.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

WHILE TWO THANKSGIVings will be observed in some parts of the nation, McKinney will officially observe the date the last Thursday in next month, November 27, announces the Retail Merchants association. The two banks of the city will observe that date. With the approach of Thanksgiving, Collin turkey owners are busy fattening their birds, getting them in readiness for the market. The price being paid at this time ranges from 11 to 16 cents per pound, say produce dealers. The market will open early next month. Carload shipments will be made from McKinney beginning early in November for the northern and eastern markets, with hundreds of pickers engaged to prepare the birds for market.

Monroe Gill Is Opening Brand New Store Here

Monroe Gill, who for the past five years has been associated with his father in the dry goods business in Van Alstyne, is opening an attractive Dry Goods Store in McKinney, on the East Side of the Square, between the Midway Cafe and East Louisiana Street.

Formal opening of this new establishment will take place Saturday morning, November 1, and all citizens of McKinney and Collin County are cordially invited to visit the store, meet the Proprietor and his sales force and inspect the fine stock of men's and ladies' ready-to-wear, millinery and complete line of dry goods and notions.

The building has been remodeled and refinished and is being equipped with modern store fixtures, making it one of the most attractive and most convenient for shoppers to be found in McKinney. Gill's Dry Goods Store, which is McKinney's newest merchantile establishment, starts with an entirely new stock of goods and Mr. Gill says they have high class merchandise that will appeal to every member of the family.

Payment Of Back Taxes Before Nov. 1 Is Urged Here

Urging that all those in Collin County, owing delinquent taxes, pay them before Saturday, November 1, County Judge H. H. Neilson points out the benefits of paying these back taxes immediately and thus save payment of penalty and interest.

"If you owe delinquent taxes and pay them before November 1, this year, you will save all penalty and interest," says Judge Neilson. "If you fail to pay these delinquent taxes before November 1, all the penalty and interest will immediately be added to the amount of delinquent taxes due.

"As an illustration of this fact," points out Judge Neilson, "suppose you owe $100.00 delinquent taxes for the year 1935. If you pay these taxes between now and Friday night, you can pay them without any additional cost. If you fail to pay, there will immediately be added to the amount of $100.00, an amount of $43.00, making a total of $143.00 that will have to be paid.

"Likewise for the year 1936, on $100.00 delinquent taxes there will be added the amount of $37 or a total of $137.00.

"For the year 1937, an amount of $31.00 will be added, or a total of $131.00. For the year 1938, an amount of $25.00 will be added, or a total of $125.00. For the year 1939, an amount of $22.00 will be added, or a total of $122.00, and for the year 1940, an amount of $14.00 will be added, or a total of $114.00."

The Collin County Judge points out that this information is given the public that they may understand the possibility of the law as it stands and to give them the opportunity to take advantage of this great saving.

Ward Schools Of City Will Play Here Next Week

The four ward schools of McKinney and Junior High will stage three games again Thursday night, November 6, at 7 o'clock at Newsome Stadium. The Junior Chamber of Commerce, which will again sponsor these football contests between students of the grade schools, is arranging to put on another ticket-selling drive, announced Marvin Collins, Jaycee President.

The first of these games, staged last week, proved a great success. The boys were presented with sweaters by the Jaycees and 92 youngsters participated in the games.

So enthusiastic have the boys become in this sport that they are talking of organizing an all-star team to play the best that can be gotten together by Junior High, later in the season, after a ward school champion is determined. The plan is for the four ward schools to first play an elimination contest, each team playing the other until all four have been matched against each other. Then from the entire number could be picked a squad of all-stars, it has been suggested.

It was intended to play the next games Thursday night of this week but the Hallowe'en celebration will interefere, so it was decided to play the following Thursday night, November 6.

The admission charge will be nominal and the public will be urged to attend.

City Commission Having Parking Lot Resurfaced

At the regular weekly meeting of the City Commission held Monday night at the City Hall a large number of routine matters were discussed and a number of important items disposed of.

A representative of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company conferred with he Commission on the matter of rental by the Public Utility Company for the use of streets and alleys in McKinney. The amount of rental was discussed, but no definite action was taken. All public utilities are required to pay street rental, under a new State Law.

Early completion of the parking lots, provided by the City, was reported by J. R. Bryan, Street Foreman, who has been leveling off the lots and laying gravel. The lots are in the rear of the Masonic Temple and in the rear of the J. T. Crouch Building and McKinney Examiner. Appropriate signs have been ordered to guide motorists to these free parking lots.

The City is also resurfacing the large parking lot just North of the Municipal Coliseum. Farmers and others having business to transact will be permitted to park on either of these lots from 6 a. m. to 10 p. m. any day in the week, and as these lots provide space for several hundred cars, they are expected to greatly relieve parking congestion around the Square and on other downtown streets. Merchants particularly are pleased with these parking spaces, as they are a convenience to shoppers.

Present at the Commission meeting were Mayor Tom W. Perkins, Commissioners Lyman D. Robinson and J. H. Snapp, City Attorney Henry C. Miller and City Secretary G. Frank Wolford.

Mr. And Mrs. Boss Apple Of Dallas Visitors In City

Mr. and Mrs. Boss Apple of Dallas greeted friends a while in McKinney Saturday. They moved to Dallas from McKinney some twenty years ago. Both born, reared and lived here many years. They reared a fine family of boys, all doing well. Mr. and Mrs. Apple have many relatives and friends here, and their old home friends are always glad to see them. This Editor, long a neighbor of the Apple's when they resided here on North Tennessee Street, was very much pleased to have a visit from our friend. Naturaly desiring to keep up with the old town and their friends, they subscribed for the Weekly Democrat-Gazette, for which we thank them.

Coldest Weather Of Season Visits City This Week

With a new low of the season of 37 degrees, only five above freezing, chilling wintry winds prevailed in McKinney Tuesday morning. Continued cool Tuesday and Wednesday, with fair skies, is the forecast. Wednesday's low was 37 degrees.

Monday's high was only 62 degrees.

The onslaught of winter sent McKinney citizens scurrying for overcoats and heavier clothing, while Monday night, added cover was put on beds, fires were lighted and other signs of winter became visible. The previous coolest weather of the season was recorded here on one or two previous occasions, October 11 and 18, when the mercury slipped down to 51 degrees.

This weather is normal for this time of year and causes thoughts to run to Hallowe'en and Thanksgiving. Already turkeys are beginning to appear on the local markets, but the general shipment of the Thanksgiving birds to the large markets of the North and East will not begin until Monray, November 3. The weather is ideal for turkeys and farmers throughout the county are busy fattening up their fowls for the Thanksgiving table.

The clear, cool weather is also favorable to gathering the remainder of the cotton and corn crops and for the preparation of the soil for the plant planting of winter grains.

Importance of terracing is being emphasized by County Agricultural Agent Jack McCullough and Assistant Agent V. C. Andrews, who are giving demonstrations almost every day. Terracing is most essential, said Agent McCullough, to conserve moisture and distribute the amount needed through the seasons. With clear skies, terracing has been taken up by many farmers throughout the county, following the demonstrations given by the Agents at various points.

The cool spell was accompanied by the season's first frost, which was in evidence throughout the city and county.

McKinney Is Represented At Defense School

McKinney is represented at the school of instruction in civilian defense, which started at Dallas Monday under the direction of the F. B. I., by Chief of Police Ed Blakeman. He is attending the school Tuesday.

The course is being conducted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in cooperation with the office of Civilian Defense, of which Mayor LaGuardia of New York is the head and several officers of the F. B. I. in Washington are attending the sessions and giving instructions to Chiefs of Police from all over Texas.

The opening course is to continue two days but later on another and more extended course will be held and will continue for six days.

Experts of the FBI will give instructions to the Police Chiefs on such subjects as wartime emergency duty, including convoy work, guarding protected places and areas, utility surveys, blackout enforcement, cooperation with other emergency agencies, action in case of grounded enemy aircraft, gas decontamination, prevention of malicious acts, internal security investigations, evacuation problems, looting problems, maintenance of maps and charts and many other rubjects dealing with internal defense.

City Commission Cooperates With Property Owners

Mayor Perkins and Commissioners Robinson and Snapp continue to cooperate in every way with owners in fixing up their property. Mr. J. T. Couch, having finished rebuilding his fine business property, has now turned attention to leveling and cleaning up the vacant lot in the rear. The city Commission has directed the street force to give every help in leveling up and ditching this lot. The Examiner has also been given permission to do some improving in the rear of our building, thus giving us more room and making the building more sightly for the public. Ham Odle, the carpenter who knows how, and Walter and Price McGarrah the "cement experts," and Dixon, the plumbing artist, have done a good job. After we get through with all this maybe we will plant some flowers—who knows. —The Examiner.

Crockett Via of Bailey was brought to the McKinney City Hospital Monday evening and underwent an operation.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Observed By Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Brigham, Sr., Plano

By DON W. BAGWILL,
City Editor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Brigham, Sr., of Plano, one of South Collin's best known and highly esteemed couples, celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary at their home in Plano Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. They held open house, when about 170 friends and neighbors called to extend them congratulations and to wish them many more years of happy married bliss.

Their children, Mrs. F. B. Agnew of Mesquite and J. Tom Brigham of Murphy were present; also Mrs. Alera Brigham of Dallas, widow of Nelson A. Brigham, deceased. Two grandchildren were present, Miss Bobbie Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Agnew and John Thomas Brigham, son of J. Tom Brigham. Mrs. W. O. Garrett of Santa Anna, Texas, is Mr. Brigham's only living sister.

Mr. Brigham's father, the late T. W. Brigham, came to Texas in 1858, settling on what is now called the Brigham farm, one mile East of Murphy. The first house was built in 1858, the lumber of which was hauled from Jefferson, Texas, by ox wagon. This house was used until 1886, then it was razed and a new two-story house built on the same spot. In 1906, the present house was built by J. T. Brigham, who retired from farming and moved to Plano.

Married in 1891.

Mrs. Brigham is the former Miss Bernettie Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nelson. She was born in Wayne County, Ky., the family coming here 55 years ago, and settling near Plano. She and Mr. Brigham were married October 25, 1891, at Murphy, at her father's home, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Baldridge, aged Presbyterian Minister. Mrs. Brigham has one living sister, Mrs. E. A. Haynes, of Seymour, Texas, who was present at the Golden Wedding Anniversary.

The Brighams are among Collin County's most honored and respected citizens and number their friends by their acquaintances. They are active members of the Plano Baptist Church, Mr. Brigham being a Deacon in the Church. He is also a Master Mason, being a longtime member of the Plano Lodge, No. 768.

During the open house Sunday afternoon, an interesting program was enjoyed, with piano, saxophone and vocal music by Mesquite talent, and an appreciated talk by Rev. W. T. Thurman of Plano.

The Brigham home, a pretty, modern structure, was lovely for the occasion. Friends signed in a register book. Tempting refreshments were served the guests who called.

Among the guests present, were several from McKinney, who took occasion to extend to this honored couple felicitations and wishes for many more years of happy wedded life together.

Negroes May Be Enlisted In U. S. Navy

Negroes may now be enlisted in the Navy in unlimited numbers as mess attendants, says Lieutenant W. B. Cranston, in charge of the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station at Dallas.

For several years enlistment of mess attendants for the Navy has been on a very limited basis. The maximum quota allowed the north half of Texas and the entire state of Oklahoma last month was 20 mess attendants.

Negroes enlisted in the Navy are transwerred to the Naval Training Station at Norfolk, Va., for a course of instruction at the Mess Attendants' school, after completion of which they are transferred to general service. Applicants must be unmarried and of good character. Age limits for first enlistment are from 17 to 31 years. Proof of place and date of birth must be furnished.

Mess attendant's pay starts at $21.00 per month, plus board, lodging, etc., with promotional opportunities to $10.00 per month as officer's cook or steward first class with 1* or more years service. After 20 years service they are eligible to transfer to the Fleet Reserve in an inactive duty status and receive one half of their base pay each month.

Roosevelt Says Nazis Seek To Replace Bible

President Roosevelt told the world by radio Monday night that he had in his possession maps showing how Hitler's Government had planned to divide South and Central America, including the Republic of Panama, and the Panama Canal, into five nazi states, where there are now fourteen separate republics; that the United States was his next objective, and that, finally, Hitler intended to obliterate all religions and bring the people of the world under his domination.

"History will show who has fired the first shot," President Roosevelt said, marking another high point in his forceful speech, "but the important thing is who will fire the last shot."

◆ ◆ ◆

Must Destroy Adolf Hitler.

The situation has reached the point now where "we must destroy Hitler and all he stands for," declared the President.

He called upon the people of the United States to subordinate everything for national defense and declared this government will not tolerate further stoppage of construction for defense; not even in the coal fields, and this reference brought forth thunderous applause from his listeners.

The President's speech was the climax of a nation-wide observance of Navy Day and National Defense Day. He spoke at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington. His address was carried to every country in the world by short-wave and later by translation into many languages.

Aiding Allies.

This country is sending aid to Britain, Russia and China and will continue to increase this aid until the nazis are stopped, declared the President. American ships will be sent to any of "our friends" 'regardles of Hitler intimidation, and "Our Navy will guard these shipments" on all seas, said Mr. Roosevelt.

◆ ◆ ◆

Neutrality Debated.

With Senator Tom Connally of Texas taking the lead, the historic debate on revision of neutrality restrictions began in the Senate Monday and action was predicted within ten days. Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan led the opposition, declaring the arming of American merchant ships would be followed by the sending of an American Expeditionary Force to Europe.

Taking an indirect slap at isolationists, the President declared that the Axis propagandists would take a keen delight in quoting these "misguided" Americans who are doing everything within their power to obstruct preparation for national defense. He said the nazi and fascist newspapers and radios would delight in broadcasting this news to their people. But this element in America is a very small minority, said the President; the people of America are overwhelmingly in favor of the program of this government and against world domination by Hitler and his partners.

British May Send Army To Russia.

On the Russian front the Red armies suffered another set-back according to reports from Moscow Monday night. It was reported the British were arranging to send a million men to fight beside the Soviets if the Germans continue to threaten Moscow.

A report from Vichy said Hitler had granted a reprieve for a hundred French hostages, being held to face firing squads in payment for the shooting of two German officers. It was said the Gestapo had been ordered to wait and give the French people time to produce the guilty assassins.

HUNDREDS OF EX-LETTERMEN EXPECTED TO ATTEND THE McKINNEY, GREENVILLE GAME

Complimentary tickets have been sent to all members of the "M" Association outside of Collin County. They have been urgently invited to attend the Ninth Annual Homecoming Game between the McKinney High Lions and the Greenville High Lions Friday night at Newsome Stadium. Membership in the "M" Association is made up of ex-letter men of McKinney High and according to the rolls kept by Secretary Walter Holland, there are approximately 500 of them. Many continue to live in McKinney and Collin County while others are scattered all over the country and some are in the service of Uncle Sam right now.

Paul Wilson, President of the Association, and Tom Cloyd, Vice President, are anxious to see every ex-letterman at the game. They will be there to root for the home team before the game and during the intermission between halves. And following the game they will have a chili supper for members and the boys of the McKinney High Football Squad, whether they play in this game or not.

Tickets on Sale.

The sale of tickets began Monday at the two high schools and at the North Side, Gamble's and Smith Drug Stores. Prof. A. A. Alexander, Business Manager of Athletics of McKinney High, said the tickets are going fast. The Stadium is expected to be crowded to capacity when the game starts at 7:30 o'clock Friday night.

While the Lions were idle last week, they were busy, and started on Monday again with hard practice. Coach J. W. (Swede) McMurry will give the boys plenty of workouts this week in preparation for the game. The Greenville team is a good one this year and the game Friday night promises to be one of the finest witnessed on the local field in some time. A large crowd of rooters, with the Pep Squad and the Greenville High School Band, will accompany the visitors. McKinney High students and local fans will turn out en masse.

Their fellow players are glad to see James Carter and James Cain out again, although neither will, of course, be in the game. They are recuperating from injuries. Both are popular boys and will be welcomed spectators at the game.

Committees Are Busy.

The Committees of the "M" Association have reported to President Wilson that all vreparations are compiete for their participation in the Homecoming celebration, and, from all indications, it will be a big night with plenty of side features in addition to the game itself. The Homecoming game of McKinney High is always looked forward to with keenest interest and this year those in charge say the fans will not be disappointed.

More Killed Here By Cars Than In England By Bombs

Pointing out that automobiles killed more people in the United States during 1940 than were killed in England by Nazi bombs the year of the big blitz, the Woman's Home Companion has inaugurated a national safety campaign aimed primarily at adoption and enforcement of uniform traffic and license laws in all 48 states, and is urging its more than 3,500,000 women readers to join the campaign locally.

The drive is an important measure for national defense as well as for personal safety, the magazine states, inasmuch as two-fifth of the increased toll is accounted for by accidents in areas of concentrated defense activity.

"The automobile, probably more than any other one invention, has made this nation what it is today," the magazine declares. "Thanks largely to our great automotive industry, we are the strongest nation in the world in the capacity to produce the mechanized weapons of war on which our safety depends. Thanks to automobiles our workers are more readily available, wherever they may be needed, than those of any other country in the world. And yet those very automobiles turn out to be weapons with which infinitely more damage to life and property is being done than anything which deliberate saboteurs have been able to devise.

"There is a drastic way out of the welter of confusion. The federal government might take over and pass one set of laws, one rule about who should drive and how, the country over. There is some question as to whether it would be constitutional, though most authorities believe it could be worked out. But it would mean further invasion of state rights, the creation of a great federal police force to enforce the laws. It is a last resort.

"The other way is to insist that our state legislaures do to job themselves. This much, at least, they should do:

"1. Set the minimum age not lower than sixteen for an unrestricted license.

"2. Require thorough examinations and driving tests.

"3. Adopt the uniform rules recommended in the code of the National regulations.

"If the women of America demand it, it will be done."

Adopt Resolutions On Passing Of Hon. J. D. Cottrell

A resolution on the passing of Hon. J. D. Cottrell, of Plano, former member of the Legislature Collin County, was passed by the Collin County Bar Association at a meeting Saturday morning in the District Court room here.

Mrs. J. D. Cottrell of Plano, her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson B. Crook, of Dallas, and son, Bill Crook, a student at S. M. U., were present when the resolution was read and passed. Copies were given to the family, the District Court and the County Court and also the press of McKinney and Plano.

Hons. Wallace Hughston of McKinney, Frank Harrington of Plano and W. Fred Duncan of Wylie constituted the Committee which drew up the resolution.

Hon. W. P. Abernathy, President of the Bar Association, presided. Justice of the Peace Clyde Doyle is Secretary of the Association.

Mr. Cottrell, who was one of the foremost attorneys of Collin County, was well known in McKinney and throughout this section. He was born in Tennessee but spent many years in this county. He died June 14, 1941.

Dairying Reaches An All-Time High

Summing up 1941 dairy activities throughout the State, A. J. Riddle of Denison, President of the Texas Dairy Products Association, expresses the belief that dairying interest reached a new all-time high during the first eight months of this year.

Indicative of this interest Riddle pointed out that approximately 2500 dairy meetings or dairy days were attended or participated in by Texas A and M. College Extension workers. These meetings covered practically every phase of dairying and herd improvement. In addition to these regularly scheduled meetings there were innumerable meetings held by Chambers of Commerce, civic bodies and breed organizations. Manufacturers' meetings called to stimulate increased production and quality improvement, all well attended, probably account for another 500 meetings.

At the host of county, community and regional fairs held or to be held this fall special emphasis is being placed on exhibits of dairy cattle and dairy products. Usual feed crops throughout the State this year has served to stimulate interest. The farmers seeking to market their crops to the best advantage have turned to dairying as a profitable outlet for their crops. Breeders of dairy cattle for the first time in the history of a state avowedly devoted to beef finds that through the increased demand for dairy cows that his cattle are on a camparable basis in price to the beef producers. It has been said that under prevailing prices more revenue can be derived from 10 good dairy cows and their offsprings than from 40 beef producing cows. That the demand is general is evidenced by the fact that the Farm Security Administration has in the past five years placed more than 500,000 dairy cows with their clients in Texas and Oklahoma. They report a steadily increasing demand during 1941.

Increased interest and production has been responsible for the extension of facilities at dairy manufacturing plants. This has been necessary to meet Secretary of Agriculture Wickard's request for increased dairy production for defense purposes.

The State will be in position to meet any demands made on it and when the defense job is finally completed will be among the national leaders in dairy production. Texas' activities have attracted the attention of national dairy publications who are highly complimentary in their editorials.

Miss Marjorie Jones of McKinney, Baylor University Senior, at Waco, will represent Tri-Delta, Home Economics Organization, in the annual homecoming parade at Waco November 1, as a nominee for homecoming queen of Baylor. Miss Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Jones of McKinney, is also a member of the Peer Social Club. She is a 1938 graduate of the McKinney High School.

McKINNEY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1941.

> With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right.—Abraham Lincoln.

Poverty is uncomfortable, as I can testify; but nine times out of ten the best thing that can happen to a young man is to be tossed overboard and compelled to sink or swim for himself.—James A. Garfield.

The Christian graces are like perfumes, the more they are pressed, the sweeter they smell; like stars that shine brightest in the dark; like trees which, the more they are shaken, the deeper root they take, and the fruit they bear.—Beaumont.

AIR CORPS TO ENLIST WOMEN.

The United States Army Air Corps has disclosed that it intends to summon—if Congress approves—a uniformed contingent of 25,000 to 40,000 American women volunteers to handle highly technical and secret work in the corps' air-raid interceptor command.

Stating that he hoped Congress would "put women in uniform" during the current session, Lieut.-Gen. Delos C. Emmons, commanding general of the air force combat command at Bolling Field, Washington, said the War Department has already proposed congressional authorization of enlistments.

The general said that the idea of female contingents as independent adjuncts of the army could easily spread from the air corps to other branches of the service and ultimately bring into the nation's military set-up additional contingents numbering more than 150,000 women.

Most of the air corps women, he added, would be "buck privates," but there also would be women officers.

"TANK" RANGE AIDS MARKSMEN OF ARMY.

American anti-tank gunners are sharpening their marksmanship, acquiring skill on the new tank combat range at the Macomb military reservation in a far removed valley of Northern New York state, it is reported.

At the historic site the federal government cleared 65 acres of ground with WPA labor to construct the device which enables simulated attacks on fast-moving tanks during conflict.

The range embodies approximately 3,800 feet of narrow gage railroad track on which the simulated tanks travel only by gravity. The target, in the shape of a tank, is mounted on small railroad flat cars for the purpose.

The anti-tank gun is nearly a mile away. Rolling downhill, the flat car winds in and out among the hills, at times accumulating speed up to 55 miles an hour.

The gunners get no more than six glimpses of the target as it coasts down the track. Three of these shooting chances give a broadside view of the "tank." Flashing over the course, the target has the practical appearance of an attacking tank.

The "tank" itself consists of a rough lumber structure, covered with scrap tin, mounted on a flat car. As the car is released from a bomb-proof shelter, it takes a down-grade course through a grassy valley.

JUNGLE LAW FOR GERMANY.

Beasts of the jungle, in the struggle for existence, kill off the old, the sick, the maimed. Germany is the first government to put into practice this jungle law of survival of the fit only. A high churchman recently published a charge that 800 patients in one sanitarium, men and women afflicted with some incurable disease, had been removed from this life; their relatives were not informed until they received notification to call for the ashes of the departed.

The Germans call it "mercy slaying,' and defend the astounding practice by comparing the aged or diseased human being with an animal that has gone lame or a piece of machinery that has been worn out. Such are no longer able to produce for the state, hence should be removed as painlessly as possible; according to the reliable Associated Press, lives of hopeless cripples, the mentally affected, aged and diseased persons are snuffed out by use of lethal gas. There are no records to show how many lives have been taken in this fashion, but rumors in general circulation place the number at thousands. Two German bishops, who protested the acts of the Nazi government, have been placed under arrest and confined to their homes, it is reported.

There have been occasional instances of so-called "mercy killings" in civilized countries, where the act has been committed by some relative or close friend at the solicitation of a sufferer from some incurable disease. In this country individuals who have performed such deeds, under the mistaken idea they had a right to override divine law, have been prosecuted in the courts and have been properly punished. Every now and then some mentally unbalanced "reformer" has preached this horrible doctrine and sought to have it incorporated into the man-made law, but none has ever succeeded in finding any considerable number of sympathizers. The whole idea is repugnant to civilized nations. Not so in Germany, if the information coming out of that country is correct—and there appears to be no reason for doubting it. There's just one more reason why the world can never tolerate or treat with such a government.—Shreveport Times.

Let our object be our country, our whole country, and nothing but our country.—Webster.

It was a great day when Cabell's built one of their main branch plants in McKinney and furnished a market for thousands of gallons of milk. Local farmers operate some of the finest dairy farms in Texas and Cabell's is their best customer. Cabell's frozen food lockers are also a great asset to the people of Collin County, who want fresh meats on their table regularly.

A reunited Christendom does not necessarily mean that we all think alike and pray alike. Nowhere is the spirit of magnanimity and tolerance more needed than in the field of religion and politics. In the past such rancor and enmity have been created in religious and political discussions that many decent men never discuss these subjects. They need to be discussed. Religion and politics are the chief concern of thinking men.—Rev. Dr. Wesley Megaw, Ft. Washington, Presbyterian Church, New York City.

A. G. (Pat) Mayse, eminent Texas newspaperman, formerly connected with these papers for many years and well known in McKinney, has been elected President of the Paris and Lamar County Chamber of Commerce. He was installed as head of the Chamber a few days ago at a banquet in Paris, to which officials of the McKinney Chamber of Commerce were invited. However, previous engagements prevented their attending. Mr. Mayse is a former President of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

CONSIDERING THE FARMER, ANYWAY.

With the government requesting farmers to increase their production of food and feed needed in national defense, it is interesting to notice that at the same time the government is guaranteeing the farmers that they will get a fairly reasonable price for their production, says the Madisonville Meteor.

Also, before the price guarantee can be discontinued, the Secretary of Agriculture is required to give sufficient public notice of the termination so farmers can make readjustments in production.

This is one of the differences between the much scoffed at New Deal way of treating the farmers and the older way of generally making the farmer the goat.

With manufacturers of huge defense materials not only getting a guaranteed price but also getting government money with which to expand their plants to handle the increased profitable production, it is scarcely above reason to assure the farmer of a minimum price for his efforts.

500,000 WOMEN TO BE TAUGHT HOME NURSING.

Nation-wide expansion of American Red Cross classes in home nursing to reach 500,000 American housewives in the next year has been announced in Washington by Chairman Davis.

Letters have been sent to President Roosevelt, Paul V. McNutt, director, Office of Defense Health and Welfare Services, and Fiorello H. LaGuardia, director, Office of Civilian Defense, informing them of the expansion.

The new goal, six times the number trained last year, will require 15,000 registered Red Cross nurse instructors, Chairman Davis reported. Last year 2,500 nurses, many volunteering their time, taught 80,000 women and girls.

The women receiving this instruction, he said, will form a vital adjunct to overtaxed medical, nursing and hospital facilities, and will be of inestimable value to the nation in the event of epidemics or national defense emergencies.

Mr. Davis announced that Mrs. August Belmont, member of the Red Cross Central Committee, is chairman of a national committee sponsoring the vastly expanded educational program.

PENNSYLVANIA TOWN TO 'ADOPT' CHESTER, ENGLAND.

The thriving Eastern Pennsylvania city of Chester, of nearly 60,000 persons, is in the process of obtaining a new "foster child"—the war-afflicted town of Chester, England.

Under the plan of Mayor Clifford H. People, the American city would voluntarily assume the task of supplying its British forerunner with food, clothing and other necessities as well as money designed to relieve the burden of war.

First steps toward the "adoption' included formation of a citizens' committee consisting largely of persons of English descent and others interested in the British War Relief Society.

Greetings were exchanged between the two Chesters in a shortwave broadcast arranged by the British Broadcasting Corporation last June. Gifts were exchanged between the two mayors in 1936, the British token arriving on the maiden voyage of the Queen Mary.

The Pennsylvania Chester, located on the teeming Delaware River, is experiencing a wartime prosperity from its nnumerous defense industries, which include the vast Sun Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation.

ARMISTICE DAY.

McKinney will join with other cities of the United States in observing Armistice Day, with sacred religious ferver and patriotism. In McKinney the observance will be sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and C. A. Carter, Commander of Lone Star Post of the V. F. W., promises a suitable program will be carried out.

Unity of the citizens of all races and creeds and all walks of life will be emphasized in the local observance and every citizen of McKinney and Collin County will be asked to participate. Two committees of three prominent men each have been appointed by Commander Carter to prepare for the celebration and the program will be announced within a few days.

With most of Europe and Asia now at war and with Russia now fighting for her very existence against the onslaught of the vast armies of the Axis, America has much to be thankful for that this country remains at peace with the world twenty-three years after the first World War ended with the signing of the Armistice, that memorable autumn day when, even after the truce was signed, fighting continued at remote points for several hours because word had not been ordered to "cease firing."

The treaty which closely followed the signing of the Armistice was intended to make the world "safe for Democracy," and now, twenty-three years later, we find that it merely served to hold the Germans in subjection until a new leader was found, one Adolf Hitler. He is where he is today by self-appointment and just plain "brass" as we Americans would call it. But he's at the top now, as far as the Third Reich is concerned and he will stay there until he is utterly defeated by the Democracies of the world. Until then he will continue to cause untold misery to millions of people in the world.

Let us observe Armistice Day, backed by the determination to be at the next peace conference table to see to it that another Hitler cannot rise after this terrible wave of carnage and slaughter is over.

Charley Lockhart Is Succeeded By Former Clerk

CHARLEY LOCKHART

Texas' diminutive State Treasurer, 45-inch-tall Charley Lockhart, resigned today and his chief clerk, Jesse James, was named to succeed him.

Mr. Lockhart, 66 years old, for the past eleven years had successfully defeated all comers in the race for State Treasurer. But for months he had been in steadily failing health, and this condition, he advised Gov. Coke Stevenso, led him to resign.

For many months, Mr. Lockhart's principal conveyance through capitol corridors has been in a specially-made all-metal wheelchair, propelled by a porter, and the sight of the little man, whose small stature is confined to his arms and legs—often caused sightseers to stare.

He had employed several small statured persons in his department.

The new State Treasurer, 37-year-old Jesse James, is a native of Cameron in Milam County. He was elected to the Texas house of representatives from Milam County in 1932, served through the forty-third and forty-fifth sessions.

He resigned on Sept 1, 1937 from the Legislature, to become Mr. Lockhart's Chief Clerk.

Signs Many Warrants.

With the unexpected transfer of authority, Mr. James was put to the task of signing the numerous state warrants by hand. A steel die is ordinarily used for the Treasurer's signature, but the change in office was so unexpected that none had been prepared.

Mr. Lockhart handed to Gov. Stevenson a statement showing the condition of the $341,758,000 business which he handed over today. Despite the $30,000,000 deficit in the State's general revenue fund, from which most checks are paid, the state actually has a cash balance of nearly $40,000,000—cash on hand of $75,933,000 and warrants outstanding of $36,595,000.

In addition, the State holds securities for various funds of nearly $100,000,000, exclusive of the $66,521,000 unemployment compensation fund reserve.

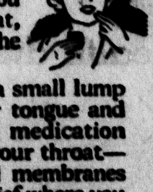
IF THROAT IS SORE



IF A COLD has given you a miserable sore throat, here's how to relieve the suffering.

DO THIS NOW—Melt a small lump of VapoRub on your tongue and feel the comforting medication slowly trickle down your throat—bathing the irritated membranes—bringing blessed relief where you want it, when you want it.

DO THIS TONIGHT—Rub throat, chest with VapoRub. Its long continued poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm, relieves irritation, eases coughing, invites restful sleep.

VICKS VAPORUB

Former McKinney Young Man, Bride Welcome Visitors

We appreciate a friendly visit Monday from Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Graves of Washington, D. C., and his brother, Charles Graves, in the United States Army, stationed at Camp Bowie. They have been guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Graves, well known and respected couple of the Culleoka Community. Their sister, Miss Streisa Lee Graves, a Junior in S. M. U., at Dallas, also was a guest of her parents the past week-end.

The Graves brothers are Collin County born and reared young men, being educated in the public schools of Collin County and graduating from the McKinney High School. Wayne Graves is connected with the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington, going there from Dallas some time ago.

It was while in Washington that he met Miss Evelyn Toler, of Norman, Oklahoma, who later became his bride. She, too, is greatly enjoying the visit to McKinney and Collin County. They expect to be here for another week or so before returning home.

We have long known the Graves family and highly regard the friendship of these fine people. Mrs. Wayne Graves is a young lady of rare beauty and charm, with many admirable traits of character. We enjoyed making her acquaintance and also in talking over old times with her husband and his brother.

Tioga Cancels Schedule As Result Death

E. J. Cappleman, Principal of the Tioga High School, has said that it was likely the school would abandon the remainder of its 1941 football schedule, climaxed in tragedy Friday night when 17-year-old Arthur Leon Jeter died in a Sherman hospital.

Young Jeter, who was President of his Senior class, succumbed to a brain clot incurred when an opposing ball-carrier's knee struck his skull. He died two hours after reaching the hospital.

Tioga and Bella were playing a class B, regional 14, game when the accident occurred. Prof. Cappleman emphasized that no blame was attached to the Bells players and said all the Tioga gridders were well protected against injury. Bells finally won the game, 27-to-2.

Coach Euell Savage is leaving October 31 to join the U. S. Army air corps, and Prof. Cappleman said this, the feeling of Tioga parents since Jeter's death, and shortage of material made it likely reemaining games with Celina, Gunter and Howe would be cancelled.

Funeral services for young Jeter were held Sunday afternoon at Brownfield, his former home. Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jeter; five brothers and five sisters.

Prof. Clarence Cox and wife were in McKinney Saturday from the Bishop Community, Prof. Cox coming by this office to renew his subscription to the Daily Courier-Gazette. Prof Cox is the efficient and well liked Principal of the Bishop School and says that they are enjoying a successful school year, with a splendid enrollment and attendance. While here he announced a musical program at the Bishop School Thursday night, October 30, by the Collin County Ramblers. The program, which will begin about 7:45 o'clock that night, is being given by the school, proceeds to be used in providing lights, fuel and other school expenses.

He had been in bad health for some time and had called on a physician last Friday as his heart was troubling him.

Children live in a different world

...and the climate is 5 to 10 degrees colder!

THE FLOOR is the most popular winter playground. Have you ever asked yourself, "How is the climate down there?" So far as healthful comfort is concerned, it is a different world at floor-level temperature than it is in the comfort zone in which grown-ups move about in the household.

In guarding your family's health against winter illness, give serious thought to proper heating. Give your floor the "Health Test." Note the temperature at floor level and compare it to the temperature at five-foot heights. You'll find it to be 5 to 10 degrees COLDER at floor levels, depending upon the manner in which you heat your home.

Heat your entire home and live all over it this winter. Provide adequate heat in every room and at all times avoid danger of uneven, unhealthful temperatures.

DON'T GIVE A COLD AN EVEN BREAK!

Fight the dangerous common cold this winter with these simple rules: (1) Don't "huddle" but provide comfortable temperatures in every room so that quick body-chilling changes will be avoided at all times; (2) Introduce sufficient oxygen-laden air into the home through adequate ventilation; (3) Keep connecting doors open so that a natural circulation of warm air prevails from one room to another; (4) If you should "catch cold" consult your family doctor before it has an opportunity to undermine your health.

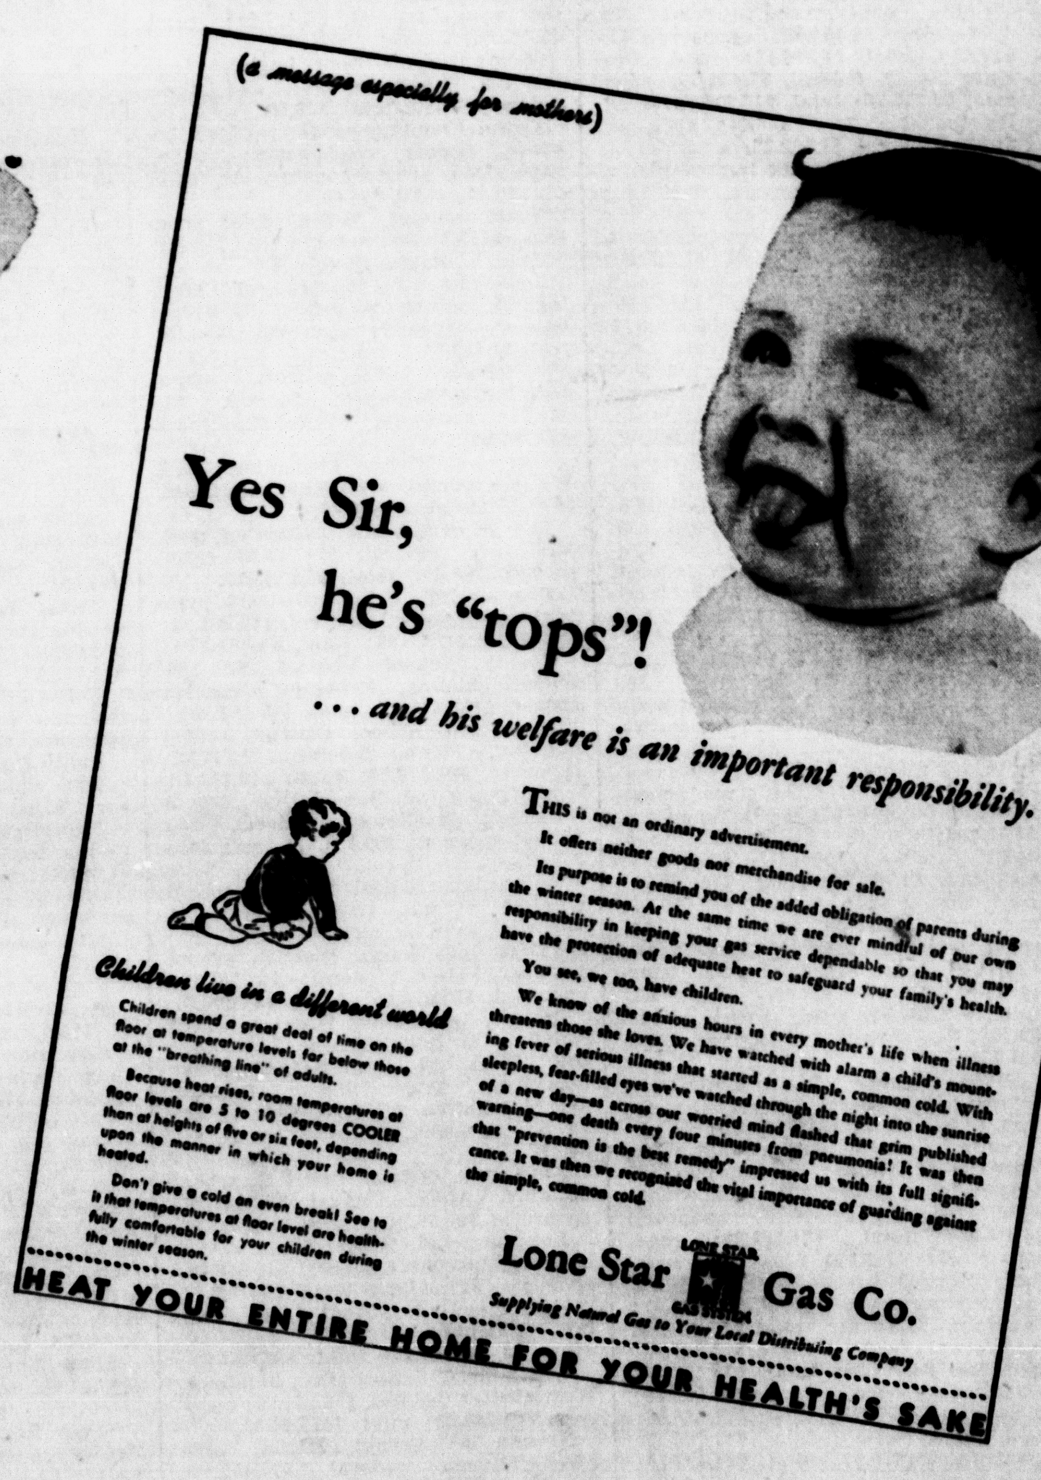
AWARD of Merit

These advertisements advising our customers on the use of gas service were selected among the best examples of public utility advertising during the past year.



(a message especially for mothers)

Yes Sir, he's "tops"!

... and his welfare is an important responsibility.

THIS is not an ordinary advertisement.

It offers neither goods nor merchandise for sale.

Its purpose is to remind you of the added obligation of parents during the winter season. At the same time we are ever mindful of our own responsibility in keeping your gas service dependable so that you may have the protection of adequate heat to safeguard your family's health.

You see, we too, have children.

We know of the anxious hours in every mother's life when illness threatens those she loves. We have watched with alarm a child's mounting fever of serious illness that started as a simple, common cold. With sleepless, fear-filled eyes we've watched through the night into the sunrise of a new day—as across our worried mind flashed that grim published warning—one death every four minutes from pneumonia! It was then that "prevention is the best remedy" impressed us with its full significance. It was then we recognized the vital importance of guarding against the simple, common cold.

Children live in a different world

Children spend a great deal of time on the floor at temperature levels far below those at the "breathing line" of adults.

Because heat rises, room temperatures at floor levels are 5 to 10 degrees COOLER than at heights of five or six feet, depending upon the manner in which your home is heated.

Don't give a cold an even break! See to it that temperatures at floor level are healthfully comfortable for your children during the winter season.

HEAT YOUR ENTIRE HOME FOR YOUR HEALTH'S SAKE

About a year ago when the above advertisements were published we did not know they would be judged among the best public utility advertisements of the year. However, we knew, beyond question, that the message they carried was of vital importance to our customers in safeguarding their family's health during the winter season.

With another winter approaching we urge you to review these two advertisements in the interest of your family's welfare. Apply the simple, logical formula of "Heating your entire home for your health's sake" as a protection against the dangers of winter illness. Play safe... DON'T GIVE A COMMON COLD AN EVEN BREAK!
